As per the Child Protective Services Law, a Mandated Reporter of Suspected Child Abuse as defined in Section 6311 (relating to persons required to report suspected child abuse) who made a report of abuse involving the subject child have the right to have access to the following limited information:

1. The final status of the report following the investigation, whether it be indicated, founded, or unfounded.
2. Services provided or arranged by the County Agency to protect the child from further child abuse. This information may be released to the required reporter at any time after the report of suspected child abuse has been made.
