- (1) This Rule is not intended to govern the right to practice or to prescribe any special requirement for the practice by any member of the bar of this Commonwealth before this court or any magisterial district judge of this county, all of which are governed by the Pennsylvania Bar Admission Rules.

Rule 101 Compliance with Court Orders or Rules

Each attorney practicing before the court shall punctually, comply with all applicable Rules, orders and directives of the court, and shall be available and appear for a conference, hearing or trial in the courtroom or place assigned within or at the time scheduled by the court. Failure to comply with any Rule, order or directive of the court or to be available and appear for a scheduled conference, hearing or trial within or at the time scheduled shall be cause for the court to impose such sanctions as shall be deemed appropriate under the circumstances.

Rule 102 Conflicts in Scheduling

In the event an attorney is scheduled to appear at the same time before different judges of this court for Juvenile Court or Criminal Court proceedings, the attorney shall first appear in accordance with the following priority: Juvenile Court hearing, jury trial, trial without jury, pretrial hearing, Post Conviction Hearing Act hearing, sentencing, guilty plea, Accelerated Rehabilitation Disposition hearing, motion; and as early as possible in advance of scheduled appearances, the attorney shall notify the judge (or his/her secretary or personal tipstaff) involved in lesser priority matters of the nature of the priority proceedings.

With respect to other proceedings involving an attorney scheduled to appear at the same time before different judges of this court or before this court and another court or tribunal, the attorney shall contact each judge and/or tribunal chairman involved, explain the conflict situation and seek guidance as to which proceeding the attorney shall first attend. If after contacting each judge and/or chairman involved, the attorney has not obtained permission to give one proceeding priority over the other or others, the attorney shall contact the Emergency Motions Judge of this court for instruction and direction.

Rule 1901.2 Termination of Inactive Civil Cases
Before District Justices

(a) The docket of civil actions at law filed in the office of a magisterial district judge of Berks County shall be examined by March 1 of each year by the respective magisterial district judge having custody of such docket; and with respect to those actions that have not been reduced to judgment or final order and for which there is no activity reflected on the docket within two (2) years prior to March 1 of the year of examination, the respective magisterial district judge shall, by the succeeding May 1, notify in writing counsel of record and parties without counsel, at his/her last known address by first class mail, that if no appropriate legal steps are taken to bring the matter to conclusion, or no written objections to termination setting forth the reasons therefor are filed within sixty (60) days after the mailing of such notice, the action will be automatically terminated as of course and without further notice, and thereafter no proceedings may be had on such matters. The prospective magisterial district judge shall note on the docket the dates and the names and addresses of persons given such notice by mail.

(b) If no appropriate legal steps are taken for bringing such action to conclusion, or no written objection to termination setting forth the reasons therefor are filed prior to sixty (60) days after the mailing of such notice, the respective magisterial district judge shall make an entry on the respective docket, "Action is terminated with prejudice under Pa. R.J.A. 1901."

(c) If written objections to termination are filed under this Rule, such written objections shall be considered as being the nature of a rule issued as of course against all opposing parties to show case why the action should not remain active. Upon the filing of such written objections, the respective magisterial district judge shall schedule the matter for hearing, to be held not less than forty-five (45) days nor more than sixty (60) days after such filing, shall give at least forty-five (45) days written notice thereof, along with a copy of said written objections, by regular mail to counsel of record and parties without counsel, and shall note on the docket the date of filing such objections, and the date, names and addresses of persons given notice and copy of objections by mail. Upon hearing held, the magisterial district judge shall determine whether or not the objections are well founded, and shall enter on the respective docket that the action remain open for a period of time determined by the district justice in his discretion, but not to exceed one (1) year or that the "Action is terminated with prejudice under Pa. R.J.A. 1901."

(d) If the magisterial district judge is unable to give notice under subsections (a) or (c) hereof, along with copy of objections if applicable, in that the same has been mailed and returned undelivered, the magisterial district judge shall, not less than forty-five (45) days nor more than sixty (60) days after deposit of the same in the United States mail, certify the caption and docket number of such action to the court administrator of Berks County setting forth that notice could not be given with respect to proceedings for termination of an action or that a copy of objections could not be served and notice of hearing hereon could not be given, or combination thereof as the case may be. Publication of notice thereof, which may be a consolidated publication referring to one or more actions before one or more magisterial district judges, shall thereupon be made by the court administrator at the expense of the County of Berks by advertisement one (1) time in the Berks County Law Journal and in a newspaper of general circulation within the county stating the caption of the action, docket number, and name and office address of the respective magisterial district judge. If the notice also pertains to objections filed, it shall state, in addition to caption of the action and document number, that objections were filed and a hearing will be held thereon before the respective magisterial district judge at his/her designated office at a given time. Proof of publication thereof shall be filed with the respective magisterial district judge, who shall thereafter proceed in the same manner as when notice was given by mail, except that any action terminated shall be without prejudice, in which event the respective magisterial district judge shall make an entry on the respective docket, "Action terminated under Pa. R.J.A. 1901," and thereafter no proceedings may be had on such matter except by order of the Berks County Court of Common Pleas upon application and proper cause shown.

(e) If an action is terminated with prejudice in the manner hereinbefore provided, an objecting party shall have the right to appeal to the Berks County Court of Common Pleas within the same time and in the same manner as appeal is taken from a judgment entered in an action at law by a magisterial district judge.

(f) Termination of any action pursuant to this Rule shall have no effect upon the liability of the parties for payment of costs.

Rule 1901.3 Termination of Inactive Criminal and Summary Cases Before District Justices

(a) All pending felony, misdemeanor and summary cases filed with a district justice for which the docket discloses that there have been no steps or proceedings other than the filing of a not found return on a warrant of arrest within two (2) years shall be ascertained by an examination of the docket by the respective district justice by September 1 of each year. Said district justice shall thereupon, by the succeeding December 1, notify in writing the district attorney in court cases involving felonies and misdemeanors, and shall notify in writing the defendant, prosecutor-complainant, private prosecuting attorney, and defense counsel of record in all felony, misdemeanor and summary cases, at his last known address by first class mail, setting forth the caption of the case and that if no appropriate legal steps are taken for prosecuting the case to conclusion, or no written objections to termination setting forth the reasons therefore are filed within sixty (60) days after the mailing of such notice, the case will be ordered terminated, as of course, without further notice, and thereafter no proceeding may be had on such matters except upon order of the Berks County Court of Common Pleas, upon proper cause shown. The respective district justice shall note on the docket the date and names and addresses of persons given such notice by mail.

(b) If no appropriate legal steps are taken for prosecuting such case to conclusion, or no written objections to termination setting forth the reasons therefor are filed prior to sixty (60) days after the mailing of such notice, the respective district justice shall make an entry on the respective docket that, "Case is terminated under Pa. R.J.A. 1901."

(c) If written objections to termination are filed as provided under this Rule, the district justice shall examine said objections, and if they set forth reasons satisfactory to the district justice why no activity has appeared of record for the past two (2) years other than the filing of a not found return on a warrant of arrest, the district justice shall enter an order on the respective docket that the case remain open, upon such terms as may be deemed advisable. If such written objections to termination do not set forth reasons prima facie satisfactory to the district justice, said written objections shall be considered as being in the nature of a rule issued, as of course, against all opposing parties to show cause why the case should not remain active, whereupon the district justice shall schedule the matter for hearing, to be held not less than forty-five (45) days nor more than sixty (60) days after such filing, shall give at least forty-five (45) days written notice thereof, along with a copy of said written objections, by first class mail to all parties previously notified as provided under subsection (1) hereof and shall note on the docket the date of filing such objections and the date, names and addresses of persons given such notice, and copy of objections by mail. Upon hearing held, the district justice shall determine whether or not the objections are well founded and shall make an entry on the respective docket that the case remain open upon such terms as may be deemed advisable or that, "Case is terminated under Pa. R.J.A. 1901."

(d) If the district justice is unable to give notice under subsections (a) or (c) hereof, along with copy of objections if applicable, in that the same has been mailed and returned undelivered, and the case is not settled or the prosecution withdrawn in accordance with the Pennsylvania Rules of criminal Procedure, the district justice shall, not less than forty-five (45) days nor more than sixty (60) days after having deposited the notice, along with copy of objections if applicable, in the mail, certify the caption and docket number of such case to the court administrator of Berks County, setting forth that notice could not be given with respect to proceedings for termination of a case or that a copy of objections could not be served, and notice of hearing thereon could not be given, or combination thereof as the case may be. Publication of notice thereof, which may be a consolidated publication referring to one or more actions before one or more district justices, shall thereupon be made by the court administrator at the expense of the County of Berks by advertisement one (1) time in the Berks County Law Journal and in a newspaper of general circulation within the county. If the notice pertains to proceedings for termination of a case, it shall state the caption of the case, docket number, and name and office address of the respective district justice. If the notice also pertains to objections filed, it shall state, in addition to the caption of the case and docket number, that objections were filed and a hearing will be held thereon before the respective district justice at his designated office at a given time. Proof of publication thereof shall be filed with the respective district justice, who shall thereafter proceed in the same manner as when notice was given by mail.

(e) Termination of any case pursuant to this Rule shall have no effect upon the liability of the parties for payment of costs.
