Proclamation of Local Disaster Emergency

Sinking Spring Mayor Gary Cirulli issued an emergency proclamation. This is a precautionary step to allow for a more efficient flow of resources to address the spread of COVID-19 in Pennsylvania.

While there are no confirmed cases of COVID-19 in our community, our primary concern is to keep our residents safe and healthy. Taking this precautionary measure will allow the Borough to be better prepared in the days to come.

The emergency declaration gives the Borough of Sinking Spring the tools needed to fully respond to the COVID-19 pandemic by freeing up resources, streamlining administrative command, and activating the borough's Pandemic Response Plan. The proclamation also opens the door to federal and state resources.

This is the strongest action we can take at this time to ensure the wellbeing of our community. We are encouraging all residents to continue to exercise precautions laid out by state and federal health agencies. We are going to get through this together, but we are all going to have to do our part.

Residents should continue to exercise basic precautions; thoroughly washing hands, use alcohol-based hand sanitizer, and cover your nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing. If you have any questions regarding your health or conditions, please contact your primary care doctor. Please see the Proclamation below:
