County Commissioners, leadership reviewing masking policy following CDC recommendation

Reading, PA— 5/13/2021 — The Berks County Commissioners and County leadership team is reviewing the recent change in the CDC’s recommendations regarding indoor mask use by fully vaccinated individuals. In concert with the CDC guidance that recognizes that local policies may be more restrictive, the County is reinforcing its commitment to a safe environment for the public and its employees and is reminding employees and visitors to County facilities that the policies on masking and social distancing at these locations remain in effect at this time. These County health and safety policies will remain in effect until formally modified.
